

Wireless providers should include their federal regulatory fees in the monthly rates so consumers know what their monthly bill will be. To bury their charges in line item listings by federal taxes and 911 fees is deceptive and borderline fraudulent. The explosion of line items has made it all but impossible for consumers to compare rates and shop around. All charges, fees, etc. should be included in the advertised rates.